

Galleria Homes

A Tradition of Quality and Elegance

Galleria Homes has become synonymous with superior craftsmanship, impeccable personalized service, and luxury homes, making them one of San Antonio's most trusted custom home builders. In fact, they were the builder of choice for the San Antonio Spurs' own Robert Horry.

"I found my house at a Galleria Homes showcase in the Dominion," said Horry. "I was satisfied with their work. The materials they use are top quality and they are out there every day making sure that work is getting done."

Set amongst the rolling hills of the Texas Hill Country, Horry's home boasts four bedrooms, a theatre and a "huge" office centered around a pool complete with an outside fireplace, putting green and, as seen above, a day room and master bathroom. "It is a great mixture of contemporary design and rustic, old world charm," said Horry. "The exterior wrought iron accents, the stained glass window on the front door, and a marble sink from the 18th century in the powder room make it distinctive. My favorite feature, however, is its spaciousness. It has an open floor plan while remaining functional. I can cook in the kitchen and still be able to watch the TV in the next room."

"I would recommend Galleria Homes to anyone. They are very attentive. If there is ever a problem, they come by the same day or next and are always checking with me to make sure everything is okay. I would definitely choose Galleria Homes again."